

Angus Bat Group

The aims of the Angus Bat Group are to:

- help conserve bats and their habitat within Angus.
- provide information for improving public awareness of bats and their conservation.
- record and monitor bat species and their population in Angus.
- support Scottish Natural Heritage with roost visits where threats to bats may exist.
- carry out bat conservation projects such as bat box schemes, improving roost sites and protecting potential hibernacula sites.
- provide a quick response and to care for sick and injured bats, through the provision of a Licensed Bat Carer and bat rescue and advisory facility.

Angus Bat Group also organizes field trips, educational and other events in Angus area. A newsletter is produced. Meetings and talks are arranged throughout the year.
